Re: Year 6 Transitions to Secondary Schools

Dear Parents,

As your child is now entering their last month and a bit of Primary School I'm sure you are now turning your attention to Secondary School, and the transition arrangements they are providing. Most of our feeder Secondary Schools have now allocated the week beginning 13th July as their Transition week. Government guidance still remains that 'bubbles/groups' of children are not allowed to mix with other 'bubbles/groups'. Therefore, once your child has attended their transition day they will need to remain at home, meaning that Tuesday 7th July (Group A) or Friday 10th July (Group B) will be the last Primary School Days for your child.

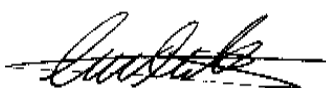

What if my child's transition day is before the week commencing 13th July?

If your child's transition day is before the week of 13th July, then the same rules will apply. Your child will need to remain at home for 7 days before returning to school.

What will the last few days of Primary School be like?

We do not want to promise anything just yet but needless to say the Year 6 team are busy making plans for your child's last week at Primary School, a party-style day is a given though. Once the 'finer-details' are confirmed your class teacher will email you.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Mills, Head Teacher
